

I took my children to see shrek 2 last week. During the previews they had a new cartoon about sharks. The main character, who voice is by will smith, towards the end of the preview made an extremely racist comment. The fish character said something about a handshake that "white" fish can't do. That comment offended me to no end. I raise my children to respect everyone. If that was a white fish saying "black" fish can't do it, the movie would have never been put on the screen. Please check in to this racist comment. Thank you.
